

Independent living schemes in Bury St Edmunds & surrounding areas

What is independent living?

Independent living is for those who wish to live independently but enjoy having the access to assistance if required.

It gives individuals a sense of security knowing that help is available to them should they ever need it in the future.

Most have a communal lounge area, kitchen, laundry and a bathroom or shower suitable for residents with mobility requirements.

Havebury's independent living schemes consist of:

- One or two bedroom flats
- Bungalows
- Traditional bedsit accommodation

About Bury St Edmunds

Bury St Edmunds is a beautiful Cathedral town steeped in history with a range of amenities including a thriving market square, supermarkets and doctors surgeries as well as country parks and quick road and rail links.

Havebury's independent living schemes are either within walking distance of Bury town centre or are on a regular bus route making it the ideal spot to live later in life.
